As we have informed here, Lab14, a portfolio company of RSBG SE, the investment company of the RAG-Foundation, has acquired a majority stake in Liestal-based Nanosurf.

Nanosurf is one of the leading innovators in the market for atomic force microscopes serving both industrial and academic customers in materials and life sciences. The company will utilize the sales and technology synergies with Lab14 to enhance its business across a wide range of fields, from biotechnologies to semiconductor manufacturing.
