We are all living an extraordinary situation, which is impacting our lives and daily activities.

Law firms are experiencing this moment in a double way: in terms of the answers that they're providing to clients and in terms of the measures that firms themselves have to take internally as organizations. At the same time, the role of general counsels is key in this crisis, as they have a duty to keep a legal team moving forward and provide direction.

Get in touch with us for an interview! Your story is highly valuable and your contribution would be precious for our community. Tell us what threats and opportunities you foresee, how are you coping with remote work, what has been the major impact in your work till present. Feel free to give voice to a particular story or anecdote of this moment.

Send your stories and/or ask more info: alessio.foderi@lcpublishinggroup.it. We will publish regularly these short interviews in our news website.
