

RUAG INTERNATIONAL SELLS ITS SIMULATION & TRAINING BUSINESS UNIT TO THALES

Posted on 5 May 2022

Category: Deal & transactions

Tags: Alain Sauty de Chalon, Alexander Fischer, Anna Zellweger, Baker McKenzie, Boris Wenger, David Courchia, dx2, Hayley Ryerson, Petra Hanselmann, Ramon Tissafi, Tino Marz

The aerospace company RUAG International has successfully closed the sale deal of its Simulation & Training business unit to Thales.

Thales will take over all business activities and all 500 employees at various locations in Switzerland, France, Germany and the United Arab Emirates. With this sale, RUAG International is concentrating more on its core activities in the space market.

Baker McKenzie advised RUAG International on all legal, regulatory and competition law aspects of the transaction. The team was led by Petra Hanselmann (partner, Zurich, m&a, pictured) and included Alexander Fischer (partner, Zurich, m&a), Boris Wenger (partner, Zurich, antitrust and regulatory), Ramon Tissafi, (associate, Zurich, m&a), Anna Zellweger and Hayley Ryerson (both trainee lawyers, Zurich), Tino Marz (counsel, Munich, m&a), Alain Sauty de Chalon (partner, Paris, m&a) and David Courchia (associate, Paris, m&a).