Schellenberg Wittmer is providing cybersecurity support in legal matters to the Pandemic Taskforce of the Information Security Society Switzerland (ISSS), Switzerland's largest association focusing on cybersecurity.

The ISSS deals in theory and practice with the security of the processing, storage and communication of information, embracing technical, economic, regulatory and socio-political aspects of information security. The high number of home office workers is creating new threats and challenges to businesses in terms of cybersecurity: this is the grounding reason for the task force.
