

SWISS FINTECH STARTUP NUMARICS SECURES OVER CHF 2 MILLION

Posted on 9 June 2022

Category: Banking & Finance

Tags: Dominique Mattmann, Michael Baier, Numarics, Patric Eggler, Slider, Wenger Vieli

After its successful product launch in September 2021, Swiss fintech start-up Numerics has just closed a CHF 2.1 million pre-seed financing round led by Wingman Ventures and Seed X Liechtenstein.

Numarics is Zurich based start-up that offers an all-in-one-solution for SMEs from accounting to tax optimisation powered by specialised financial experts and intelligent algorithms. The company combines artificial intelligence with expert knowledge from the fields of fiduciary services, audit and digitalization which gives SMEs access to state-of-the-art finance management. The success of Numerics' mobile-first strategy was recently impressively confirmed: its app was awarded the GOLD award at the annual Best of Swiss App Awards

Wenger Vieli Start-up Desk have advised Numerics in legal and tax matters. The team was involved Michael Baier (partner, venture capital / m&a, pictured), Patric Eggler (counsel, tax) and Dominique Mattmann (associate, venture capital / m&a).