Founded in 2020, Advestra provides clients with sophisticated legal advice by dynamic and approachable professionals with a deep commercial understanding. The idea is to have a corporate law firm combining the power of a big firm with the personal and lean approach of a small one.

Advestra's lawyers advise clients on all matters related to Corporate/M&A, Capital Markets, Finance, Financial Services as well as Tax, with a particular focus on transactional work. For practice areas they do not cover, they have teamed up with specialist law firms leading in their field to deliver comprehensive services to our clients.

Thomas Reutter (pictured), one of Advestra partner, comments the launch to Legalcommunity.ch: "The team is thrilled to have gone live with Advestra, a firm that combines the power of a big law firm with the personal and lean approach of a small one. Our key focus is to provide our clients with sophisticated legal advice while never losing sight of the economic context of a matter to create practical solutions."

By the start of 2021, the team will comprise approximately 20 professionals. Prior to joining Advestra, the team has worked together at a leading law firm in Switzerland. The partners and associates of Advestra are admitted to all Swiss courts. Sandro Fehlmann is further admitted to the bar in California, Alexander von Jeinsen is admitted to the bar in Germany as well as in Switzerland. The team further includes partners Rashid Bahar, Daniel Raun, Roland Truffer, Annette Weber, Markus
