As the coronavirus pandemic evolves, there are lots of initiatives by Swiss law firms. One of them is run by Walder Wyss that has decided to create a Coronavirus Information Hub where to find links to their insights on a large amount of topics businesses must consider in this emergency situation.

The hub will be updated regularly in order to give clients latest news in all fields: corporate, employment, real estate, data protection. Walder Wyss will be adding insights and commentary as well. As the situation is rapidly evolving, they recommend at the same time to follow advice published by the Swiss Government , the Swiss Federal Office of Public Health and the World Health Organisation.
